Re: Whistling Ridge Energy Project
Skamania County, Washington

Dear Mr. Mainzer, Ms. Gardner, and Ms. Grange:

Please find enclosed a petition of citizens opposed to the Whistling Ridge Energy Project (WREP), proposed in Skamania County, Washington, in the heart of the Columbia River Gorge. Friends of the Columbia Gorge and the 1,120 citizens who have signed this petition respectfully ask that you deny the WREP generation interconnection request.

Friends of the Columbia Gorge supports renewable energy, but only when it is proposed in a responsible manner and sited to ensure the protection of important natural and scenic resources. The proposed Whistling Ridge Energy Project is neither and should be denied.

Since the creation of the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area in 1986, few projects have threatened Gorge resources like the controversial Whistling Ridge Energy Project. Proposed along the boundary of the National Scenic Area and within an area designated for the protection of the endangered northern spotted owl, the Whistling Ridge Project would mar world-class scenery and harm endangered species habitat, with little to no benefit to Columbia Gorge citizens. Furthermore, the site has never been surveyed for birds during key migratory periods. The project would also harm the tourism economy in the Gorge, cause substantial traffic and road damage along local roads during construction, and harm property values in surrounding communities.

In addition, the project is not needed. The average power capacity of the Whistling Ridge project would be 25 megawatts or less, and the total capacity would be 75 megawatts or less. This is a drop in the bucket compared to the more than 17,000 megawatts of current wind power capacity (including all built, approved, and proposed projects) in Washington and Oregon. In addition, the project details for the proposed WREP are currently unknown, making any generation interconnection approval premature and inappropriate. The Applicant has failed to disclose the number, size, layout, locations, capacities, and manufacturer(s) of the turbines proposed for the site, nor the total nameplate capacity of the Project as a whole.

As exemplified by the attached signatures, the public overwhelmingly opposes this project. Eighty-six percent of public comments have opposed or expressed concerns about the project. Concerns have been raised by numerous public resource management agencies, tourism groups, and environmental organizations, including the National Park Service, the U.S. Forest Service, the Washington Department of Natural Resources, the Washington Counsel for the Environment, the Skamania County Agri-Tourism Association, Sustainable Travel International, Friends of the Columbia Gorge, Save Our Scenic Area, Friends of the Historic Columbia River Highway, Seattle Audubon Society, Vancouver Audubon Society, Kittitas Audubon Society, Columbia Gorge Audubon Society, American Bird Conservancy, Conservation Northwest, and the Gifford Pinchot Task Force.

Icons of the Northwest like the Columbia River Gorge should be off-limits to large-scale energy development. We can combat global warming without having to sacrifice our most special places and our core values. The requested interconnection for the Whistling Ridge Energy Project should be denied.

Please add all petition signers to BPA's mailing list for the WREP. An Excel spreadsheet of their names and contact information is available upon request.

Thank you for your time and consideration. If you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Ryan Rittenhouse
Conservation Organizer

Enclosure

Dear Administrator Mainzer,

We, the undersigned citizens, oppose the Whistling Ridge project, adjacent to the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area. We believe that wind energy should be an important part of the Northwest's energy future but poorly planned projects like Whistling Ridge should not be allowed.
